Dear Mr. & Mrs. Lederberg:

I am very much interested in the work you are doing and the statment that many of our new anti-biotic drugs may be loosing some of their punch. in controlling certain diseases. I would appreciate a brief answer to the following questions:

- 1) What indications are there that the anti-biotics are loosing some of there punch?
- 2) What is your research designed to do about it?

May I hear from you.

Sincerely yours,

John Strohm, Associate Editor
